Pool Improved

160 Now Receiving Swimming Instruction

Almost 14 years ago to the day, keeping up with steadily increasing health regulations and standards. $900 was spent for a new chlorinator and the filtration plant was remodelled this year. A two foot layer of Anthrasilt, a substance resembling coal dust, lies above layers of fine gravel, coarse gravel and rocks in the filtration tank.

Since some water is lost in "back-wash" cleaning of the filter and water at present is very scarce, not only in the well supplying the pool but in the town supply, from which some is obtained, the big problem is how to keep the pool full and the filtration up to stiffer cleaning standards.

Pool committee head, Lion Roy Deal commented that despite these problems, the staff is providing excellent services for swimmers and is maintaining the pool most satisfactorily.

The cost of the pool at construction was approximately $25,000 but present estimates on a similar sized project would run well over double that amount.

Its need has been felt throughout the County over the years as practically no natural swimming water other than Lake McGregor and Travers Lake is to be found, and people come from distant points to use the facilities. Two weeks ago a family drove from west of Nanton to Vulcan so their children might swim one afternoon.

The pool is 25 feet wide and 75 feet long, sloping from three and one-half feet past the safety roped area to the diving area where the depth is nine and one-half feet.

M. D. McIntyre was Lions Club president and chairman of the 1945-46 pool committee and with him were the following members: Glen Dahl, Jack Hurst, Budd Andrews, C. J. Robinson, Percy Simpson and L. Findlay.

Although there is a heavy rush on facilities at the pool during hot weather Mrs. Oltean feels active interest is not as high presently as was the case several years ago, particularly among adults. In order to give men and women use of the pool without youngsters interference, a test run on Friday night adult swimming is being tried. From 6 to 8 p.m. the pool will be open to swimmers over 18 years old only and with the water temperature being held to between 70 and 72 degrees it is felt many will welcome the opportunity.

Competing with problems of water shortage and maintaining health standards of the 14-year-old pool is Plant Operator Don Buehler.

Normal improvements and repairs such as converting from coal to gas for furnace heat, and a new paint job to dressing rooms etc., to have been minor, cost-wise, to

On World Tour

They will visit 19 countries with stops being made at London, Paris, East and West Berlin, Beirut, New Delhi, Kathmandu, Patna, Calcutta, Bangkok, Saigon, Hong Kong, Formosa, Tokyo, Anchorage, Seattle, Vancouver and back to Calgary. The trip will take 26 days.

A Good Place In Hot Weather

Last week's heat brought the biggest rush of the season to the Vulcan and District Memorial Swimming Pool. The above photo was taken during a late afternoon lull on Friday.

The kiddies' wading pool is also well patronized these days catering to youngsters under school age. Roger Middleton's children were having a splashing good time and year-old Bill is shown (side picture) being steadied by Judy after taking on a face-full of water.

Increases For Training

County and Teachers Agree On Salary Schedule

Agreement has been reached between the School Committee of the County of Vulcan No. 2 and the Alberta Teachers Association, acting as bargaining agent for the teachers of the County of Vulcan Schools, on a new teachers' salary schedule effective Sept. 1, 1960.

The main changes adopted in the schedule are for an increase of $300 a year for a teacher with a

Elks On Winning Streak, Now In Second Place

Last Friday, with two games to go in the league schedules, Vulcan Elks were tied with Champion in second place behind Enchant, and are hopeful of ending regular play in that position. Lomond is in third spot and Nanton is now out of contention for a playoff berth.

On Wednesday, July 6, Vulcan entertained Lomond and won 7-4 with Larry Taylor on the mound and Doug Huff pitching for Lomond. Most of Elks' runs came in the sixth and eighth innings while Lomond got into the game in the ninth with three runs. They also had three men on bases in the final inning but couldn't get them home.

Last Friday a rained out game was made up at Vulcan between Elks and Champion with another win posted for Elks, 5-3.

All local runs came in the first and second innings while Champion's were spread throughout the game. Sjogren started pitching for Elks and went till the eighth when Taylor came in to relieve. Rhodes threw to Buchanan for the visitors.

Elks travelled to Brooks on Sunday.

Eight Blocks This Year

Expect Early Action On Proposed Street Paving Project

A street paving program that will see four business blocks and four residential blocks in Vulcan hard-surfaced this summer is expected to get under way early next week.

To be financed on the basis of 60 per cent of the cost being paid through frontage taxes by the property owners concerned and 40 per cent out of the general funds of the town, the paving program will utilize the provincial government paying grant of approximately $23,000 and it is hoped that the paving will be extended year by year through the balance of the business district and in the residential parts of the town.

This year Centre Street, which is 90 ft. wide in the business district, will be paved from curb to curb for two blocks from the County Office to the Lodge Hall corner. The next three blocks of Centre St., which narrows down when it enters the residential area, will receive a 30 ft. wide paving strip down the centre, leaving gravel shoulders for parking. The next block of this street will have a 26 ft. wide paved travel strip, and from where the paving ends at the golf course corner to the town limits it is planned to oil the street in the same manner as done by the golf club on the west road.

Back in the downtown area, the two blocks of Second Avenue, from the Vulcan Theatre to the Central Garage-Vulcan Supply corner, will be surfaced curb to curb and it is likely that the balance of this

Restrict Use Of Water

An ad in this issue carries the warning that watering of lawns and gardens in Vulcan will be prohibited from Thursday noon, July 14th.

For the past two weeks water pressure has been very low the latter part of each day, as the lack of rain kept lawn and garden sprinklers busy and the town's daily water consumption rose to 65,000 to 70,000 gallons daily. The situation was aggravated this past week with one of the town wells out of production because of pump trouble.

The faulty pump has been repaired and an additional well, drilled this spring at the northern edge of town, is expected to be hooked into the water system this week. However, tremendous quantities of water will be required next week for the soil-cement base course used in the town's hard-surfacing program and consumption will have to be curtailed sharply in order that the overhead storage tank can be filled and proper pressure restored.

The restriction on using water for lawns and gardens will be lifted as soon as possible, town officials said, and it is expected that the new well being hooked into the water system will aid in maintaining the water supply. A second new well, completed last month across from the Jesse & Emelson building, cannot be used, as the water was found to contain an excessive amount of Glauber's salts.

As an alternative the Arts Council delegation suggested that their organization would bring down qualified instructors from Calgary to conduct an intensive leadership course to be taken by at least two suitable persons from each school area of the county. Graduates of the five-day course could operate morning kindergartens in their own districts in whatever suitable premises were available, if the county school committee would render financial assistance for leaders' salaries and supplies.

The school committee agreed to consider this suggestion if enough interested leaders from every part of the county could be produced to attend a meeting of the school committee. The Arts Council will ask Home and School Associations throughout the county to sponsor candidates for the proposed training course and other interested persons may write P.O. Box 56, Vulcan.

The Arts Council officers expressed the hope that this would lead to a program of organized and supervised activity for the children of four years to school age.

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic will again be held in Vulcan at the Canadian Legion Hall on Thursday, July 28, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

WAGES OF VIRTUE

A ragged panhandler accosted a well-dressed sportsman and asked for a handout. The sportsman said, "I'll give you a drink."

"No thanks, I don't smoke either," said the beggar.

"Well, I'll tell you what I'll do," said the sportsman. "I've got a tip on a horse that will not only bring you in some money, it might give you enough to buy a suit."

"I couldn't do that!" cried the panhandler. "I never gamble. All I want is some food."

"You'll have it!" vowed the sportsman, "and it will be right at home with me. I want my wife to see what happens to a guy who doesn't drink, smoke, or gamble."

District Crops Show Need Of Rain

Lack of general rains in June, coupled with drying winds the latter part of the month and hot weather in July, has seriously hurt crop prospects in many parts of the district.

David Sim, official weather observer in the Berrywater district north-east of Vulcan, reports only .94 inch of precipitation in that area during the month of June, and this all from small, scattered showers that did not benefit the district as a whole. Wheat in this area is now about 12 inches in height and is reported to be heading out already because of the hot, dry weather and lack of moisture. Average daytime temperature at the Berrywater weather station all last week was 84 above.

In some other parts of the district, mainly north and west of Vulcan, crops still look good at present but continued lack of moisture will soon show its effects. Stubble crops in the Lake McGregor area are reported to be deteriorating badly. Pastures and hay fields are also badly in need of rain.

Queenst'n Pioneer Buried At Vulcan

A pioneer of the High River and Majorville districts, Mrs. Hattie Myrtle Clemmons passed away in Vulcan on July 5, 1960, following a brief illness.

Born in Missouri, Mrs. Clemmons came to the High River area in 1906 and to Majorville in 1908. She and her husband moved to Queenstown in 1926 and she had resided there since that time.

Her husband predeceased her in 1952 and she is survived by three sons, Donald of Calgary, Raymond of Queenstown and Lloyd of Edmonton; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Gravett of Calgary; one brother, Ed Scott of Turner Valley; and three grandchildren.

Rev. Wilfred Martin conducted the funeral services at the Queenstown Community Hall on Friday, July 8. Pall bearers were William Francis, Lee Francis, Clair Francis, Sam Francis, Bert Clemmons and Cecil Warner. Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and interment was in the Vulcan cemetery.

Will Hold Election To Name Delegate

Ross Bertrand of Milo, Dean Coffell of Arrowwood and Melvin Magnuson of Lomond will contest the position of Alberta Wheat Pool delegate for this area in an election to be held this summer. Ballots will be distributed to Pool members in the area in the next few days.

When the nominating period closed on June 30 a total of 49 nominations had been received for the position of delegate in the 35 odd-numbered Wheat Pool sub-districts. Delegates were elected by acclamation in 24 sub-districts, elections are to be held in 10 and no nomination was received from one southern sub-district, necessitating a by election later this summer.

"I never drink."

"Hm," said the sportsman, "I understand. Here, have a good cigar then."

"No, thanks, I don't smoke either," said the beggar.

"Well, I'll tell you what I'll do," said the sportsman. "I've got a tip on a horse that will not only bring you in some money, it might give you enough to buy a suit."

"I couldn't do that!" cried the panhandler. "I never gamble. All I want is some food."

"You'll have it!" vowed the sportsman, "and it will be right at home with me. I want my wife to see what happens to a guy who doesn't drink, smoke, or gamble."

PROUDLY WESTERN

From a photograph of American settlers arriving by covered wagon near Red Deer during the 1890's.

A Salute to Alberta's American-Born Pioneer Citizens

New towns are springing up where railway lines have scored the prairie and parkland, beyond them new furrows are to be ploughed, and here are the pioneers who will turn them deep and straight.

They are Americans, mostly from the midwest states, farm people wise enough in the ways of pioneering to temper enthusiasm with caution. When Canadian land agents visited them at their established communities in the States they elected to send representatives north to see if the promoters' promises of "free land" were accurate and practical.

Now, encouraged by reports, they strike out confidently — sometimes a few families together, often an entire community — loading cherished family possessions in covered wagons, hitching patient milk cows to the tail gate, and proudly tucking into the whip socket the staff from which flutters the Stars and Stripes.

The firm which pioneered Alberta at about the same era — 1892 — proudly salutes the American "covered wagon" pioneers for their faith in the province they helped make great.

Our "Crop Testing Plan" demonstration plots, where different varieties of wheat, oats, barley and flax are grown side by side, offer the opportunity for anyone interested to pay a visit and to see for himself how different varieties compare under local conditions.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

Norman Soder

The chemicals for wild oat control seem to be giving good results.

Avadex, the chemical that is recommended to be applied at the two pound rate, sprayed and incorporated into the soil before the crop is planted, is showing good results.

Carbyne, the chemical that is recommended to be applied at the one pound rate and sprayed on the crop after it has emerged and when the wild oats are in the one and a half to two and a half leaf stage, is also giving good control.

Both Avadex and Carbyne were used to some extent in the County this year and with good results. We have demonstration plots using Avadex on the farms of Art Cutforth, Jim Ellis, Ivan Haga, Dave Irwin, Andy Knife, Allan McLean, Floyd Olson, Wm. Peterson and Ross Walker. We also have a demonstration plot using Carbyne at Eugene McLeans, west of Vulcan.

Anyone interested in seeing the results of the chemicals, as applied, could do so at the farms mentioned above.

Zilkie-Maclean Rites At St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, June 18, at 10:30 a.m. when Mary, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Maclean of Primate, Sask., became the bride of Edward Zilkie, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zilkie. Rev. Father Marien officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Bill Kiczula, the bride wore a floor-length gown fashioned in tiers of white chanelly lace and net over satin. The bodice with lily-point sleeves, featured iridescent sequins and pearls. Her finger-tip veil, scattered with lace appliques was held in place by a jewelled tiara. She carried a white prayer book decorated with sweet-heart roses and stephanotis. The bride's only jewellery was cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Jean Fath was matron of honor. She wore a blue printed silk dress, a small white headband, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Janice Krall, niece of the bride was flower girl. She wore a yellow nylon frocked dress, a white flowered head band and carried a basket of white carnations.

The groom was attended by George Fath.

During the signing of the register the choir conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shaw sang, "O God of Loveliness," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Phil Heather.

A reception for 60 relatives and friends followed in the IOOF Hall. Rev. Father Marien proposed the toast to the bride. Clark Fletcher of High River proposed a toast to the bride and groom.

For her wedding trip to different points in the States the bride chose a blue and white dress with three-quarter length blue duster, white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Out-of-town guests included friends from Pincher Creek, Lethbridge, Claresholm, Calgary and Airdrie.

ing to Calgary the latter part of July.

Hall swept a portion of the district on Sunday, July 3. It swept from George Morris and on to the town of Milo. Some of the farmers that reported heavy damage are G. Morris, Frank Durston, George Elder, Ray Clemmons and the Nelsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bottom and family (nee Leona Lund) of Missouri and Mrs. C. Lund visited friends in the district last week.

Mrs. W. Gooch and girls went to Banff last weekend.

Women's Institute

The meeting was held in the Legion Hall, July 9. Mrs. S. Hagg was hostess to nine members and one visitor. Roll call was answered by giving a "beauty hint."

Mrs. W. Taggart and Mrs. G. Elder gave reports of the constituency conference held at Cheadle, at which seven members were in attendance. A number of fair prize lists were distributed to members and copies sent to district organizations and all competitors are welcome to bring exhibits to this fair to be held Aug. 13. A community picnic is planned for Aug. 21, at the river.

Home Economist Mrs. A. Pal, is being asked to give a demonstration in "table setting" and also give a talk on "Good and poor design in handicraft," at a later date.
